Making Online Curricula

Engaging & Sustainable

OPEN — Ease & Accessibility

Use the online tools & resources your learners already use

Timing

Choose content commensurate with important role transitions, release in a timely fashion & avoid over saturation

Get Creative

Write realistic cases with the goal of activating memories of previous patient encounters/ building a framework for future patient care experiences

Dialogue is Everything

Learning is a back and forth exchange of ideas, you must engage to make your learners engage

It Takes a Village

Recruit a team to help shoulder the load. Burnout doesn't just happen with learners, it happens with teachers as well.

Recruit for the Future

Recruit residents to help run the curricula. It is a valuable experience for them and provides a breath of fresh energy each year

Jeffery Hill, MD MEd, University of Cincinnati, Dept. of Emergency Medicine

#CORD16, 560 Sessions